Terms and regulations for publishing in the Journal

Afaqeqtisadia Journal is a peer-reviewed scientific journal concerned with publishing original scientific research and studies in the field of economic sciences. It is issued semi-annually by the College of Economics and Commerce at Elmergib University, and its publication controls are as follows:

The Journal's vision and interests:

Afaqeqtisadia Journal publishes peer-reviewed scientific research and studies in the field of economic and political sciences in Arabic, English, and French. The magazine focuses on research that is concerned with issues related to the national economy in terms of analyzing the problems that concern this economy and proposing appropriate policies to deal with them with a neutral scientific vision committed to an approach. Scientifically, it aims to develop the spirit of creativity and develop scientific research tools and methods in order to emulate contemporary scientific developments.

The Journal also provides room for publishing critical comments on recently published books, especially recent and important international books, and allows each of these comments a space of no more than a page and a half, provided that these comments are characterized by objectivity and deep analysis to show the merits of these books in order to benefit from them.

The Journal also publishes reports on scientific seminars and conferences, allocating space for each of these reports not exceeding three pages during which the objectives and topics of this or that symposium or conference are stated, as well as brief summaries of the most important scientific papers presented during it and its most important recommendations, with the necessity of mentioning the title of the symposium or conference, its date, and the place of its holding.

2-3 Methodological conditions for writing research:

- A. The research must be original in its ideas and topic.
- B. The research must provide a new scientific contribution (theoretical or applied), and must not be merely a compilation and narration of well-known scientific ideas.
- C. Commitment to the recognized scientific method in writing scientific research.
- D. Integrity of language, clarity and coherence of ideas.
- E. H. The research must not have been previously published or submitted for publication in any other journal, and the researcher must provide an acknowledgment of this.
- F. The research submitted for publication in the journal must not be derived from a master's thesis or a doctoral thesis prepared by the researcher.
- G. The researcher writes a summary of no more than 250 words, which is written in English for research written in Arabic, and the summary is written in Arabic for research written in English or French.
- H. The researcher fills out - and signs - the form related to intellectual property rights.
- I. Mathematical symbols and equations (if they appear in the search) are inserted by using the (Insert Equations) tool in the MS Word printing program, or by using any other program known to deal with mathematical symbols.

2-4 Mechanism for evaluating materials submitted for publication:

1. The materials published in the magazine shall not exceed 20 pages for working papers and shall not exceed 30 pages for research.
2. All research and studies submitted for publication are subject to a confidential and precise scientific evaluation by two arbitrators in the field of specialization, and only research and studies that receive a positive evaluation are published.
3. The evaluator must have at least the rank of assistant professor, and the evaluator must have a higher academic degree than the researcher in all cases.
4. The decision to publish depends on the recommendation of the two arbitrators. In the event that the evaluation results differ such that one of the two arbitrators recommended publication and the other recommended against it, a third arbitrator will be referred to, whose decision is considered final.
5. The negative opinions of the arbitrators shall not be taken into account unless they are scientifically justified and justified.
6. The researcher will be officially notified of the arbitration decision within a maximum period of two months from the date of receipt of his research.
7. The researcher will be notified of the required amendments, if any, and he will make them within a period not exceeding one month from the date he is notified of them.
8. Research accepted for publication is displayed on the citation program. Research with a citation rate of 30% or less is accepted for publication, while research with a citation rate above this rate is rejected, even if it is accepted by the referees.

2-5- General considerations:

1. Research and studies shall be sent in three hard copies and a CD in the name of the magazine's editor-in-chief, or sent to the magazine's e-mail.
